

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	v
Introduction	1
Fish Identification	1
Fish Remains in Archaeology	3
Scope of Coverage	5
Organization	7
Terminology	8
Method of Specimen Preparation	9
Additional Notes	10
Illustrations
A. Introduction to the General Fish Skeleton.....	15
The Cranium.....	16
The Lateral Facial Bones and Appendicular Skeleton.....	18
The Axial Skeleton.....	20
B. Family Salmonidae.....	23
Oncorhynchus keta	25
C. Family Gadidae.....	45
Gadus morhua	47
D. Family Scorpaenidae.....	73
Sebastes marinus	75
E. Family Pleuronectidae.....	95
Hippoglossus stenolepis	97
References Cited	123
Illustration Index	129
Tables
Table 1. Specimen Data.....	12
Table 2. Anatomical Regions of the General Teleost Skeleton.....	13

